

Axel Bremner

Computer Science Student

0418 479 416

Brentwood, Perth

contact@axelbremner.id.au

github.com/stickinthewinds

CAREER PROFILE

Final semester Computer Science student looking for graduate or entry level employment. Able to quickly adapt to new technologies or programming languages.

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Science (Computer Science)

JUNE 2017 - JUNE 2021

Curtin University

- Passionate and hard working, received Dean's Letter of Commendation
- Leading a team of students to deliver a search tool for an architecture researcher
 - Developed a desktop application (C#, .NET) which searched local and cloud storages for specified file types and automatically converted them to PDFs using Microsoft Interops
 - Utilised the REST APIs of OneDrive, Google Drive and Dropbox
 - Managed the project using Git, Azure Devops and Trello and applied principles of Agile development to deliver consistent progress

SKILLS

Programming Languages: Java, C#, C++, Python, C, Javascript

Tools: React, .NET, OpenCV, Git, LaTeX, Windows, Linux

Technologies: Relational databases (SQL), REST, Computer Vision, Machine Learning, Agile, CI/CD (Azure Devops, GitHub Actions, Jenkins)

EXPERIENCE

Volunteer Lifesaver

2010

Fremantle Surf Life Saving Club

HOBBIES

- Coding challenges - Advent of Code 2020, HackerRank
- Machine learning - experimented with several models such as automatically determining a sentiment towards a business based on Tweets related to it
- Swimming - dedicated and disciplined swimmer

REFEREE

Johannes Herrmann

Curtin University

hannes.herrmann@curtin.edu.au

08 9266 3309

Martin Porebski

SpaceDraft

martin@spacedraft.com

0466 420 646

Cameron Duncan

CommBank

cdun@outlook.com.au

0449 708 222